Prospect Heights Lacks Proper Agency

Flood Control Basin Plan in Peril

By Charles Mowbride

A plan to curtail floods in the northern section of Arlington Heights and in Prospect Heights may never be seriously studied.

Prospect Heights does not have an agency that can readily undertake consideration of the plan or raise needed funds.

The PLAN was outlined in a report from Arlington Heights by Dr. John R. Shaffer, director of the city's water management. It proposes a water retention basin along McDonald Creek, between Buffalo Grove Rd. and Schoonhook Rd.

Arlington Heights President John C. Woods called a water retention basin in that area "extremely beneficial" and "highly desirable."

But, he said, lack of an appropriate agency for cooperation with Prospect Heights would tend to make the application of the plan very difficult.

Trustee George Burdette said he thought that the basin proposed in the report could curtail the flooding problem of Prospect Heights by up to 50 per cent.

"I SHOULD think that,"

Prospect Heights people were very interested," Burdette said. "It would help them a great deal."

The existing Northwest Council of Associations, which covers Prospect Heights, does not seem to be able to carry the burden of such negotiations with Arlington Heights if the latter was interested.

"I would be very interested to receive information on the plan," said Everett Kelly, president of the council and a resident of Prospect Heights. But, he said, the council had neither the legal authority nor the funds to make any agreements for such a project.

THE OLD Town Sanitary District which serves Prospect Heights is now interested mostly in the sanitary sewer system of the area.

Richard Schull, the director, said that the district is preparing a situation report on flooding along McDonald Creek at the request of the district and the Prospect Heights Improvement Association.

A water retention basin in the northern section of Arlington Heights could also double as a lake providing recreational facilities there, according to Shaffer.

The lake would have an area of approximately 100 acres and would receive water from a 4.2 square mile tributary drainage area.

There is also the possibility of increasing sand and gravel from the bottom of the reservoir to top ground water.

ALL THE storm water drained into the lake would be first treated in a 20-minute detention reservoir making the quality of water acceptable for recreational use.

Shaffer said that although he has not made a cost study he expected the project to be very expensive.

But, he added, there is a good chance for the village to receive federal grants for such a project.

THE LAKE would stop water from Arlington Heights from its now flowing into Prospect Heights during heavy rainfall.

The village would have to move fast if they are interested in applying the plan, according to Burdette. The land which is available now may soon be developed.

Sanitary District Trustee Proposes 'Utility' System

Metropolitan Sanitary District Trustee Jancsek says elimination of the district and the creation of a public utility to replace it.

"It is my firm opinion that each district should be considered a utility and that taxation as such for financing of these districts be eliminated," he said at a legislative group inquiring in the district's affairs.

HE SAID that in his opinion the move is motivated by the taxpayers' inability to finance the cost of treatment of the sewage discharged into the waterways under the present system.

Jancsek said that 8 to 10 per cent of sewage impurities in the district's waterways.

"If the district were converted to a utility each household would pay a fee according to its use of the utility's facilities," he said.

Industries would pay on the basis of water consumed and discharge into the sewer system.

Seed milk, painting factories and other firms which deal with the use of chemicals would pay on the basis of the degree of contamination caused by the particular industry.

JANEK said that the Metropolitan St. Louis, Mo. District, is implementing the utility idea.

"I estimated that starting three years from now and continuing for a period of at least 15 years, $200 million or more would be necessary to improve public health in the district," he said.

Residents of Prospect Heights who would like to receive the monthly OGD Sanitary Bulletin may call the district office at 362-4799, according to Frank Kania.

THE LATEST official statement out of Dist. 13 was that the district is not responding to the move by the board to Route 57.

Planners Approve Apt. Rezoning

A recommendation to rezone the single family property northwest of the intersection of St. James and Kenoska for apartment use will be sent to the Arlington Heights trustees by the plan commission.

It will be on the trustees' agenda on Feb. 3.

Homeowners who live around the property proposed for rezoning were against it, but the commissioners passed the recommendation 7 to 2.

Dismissing was Fred Ainslie, chairman of the commission, who said he was aware of the rights of the developer but he also recognized the rights of the homeowners who bought property in that area thinking single family houses would be developed.

Representatives of the developer notified apartment owners should be built at St. James and Kenoska because a post office facility planned for that area and other apartment buildings make it suitable.

A TWO-STORY building with 12 apartments is planned for the property if the board of trustees approves the rezoning.

Each apartment is expected to have two bedrooms and underground parking will be provided.

F. H. Youkers of 311 N. Park, one of the homeowners who opposed the rezoning, said that the understanding of the residents who bought property there believing the zoning would keep the district single family dwellings.

Dist. 59 Teachers Approve Salary Schedule Increase

Teachers in School Dist. 59 said "yes" Wednesday by a vote of 10 to 2 in approving a new salary plan.

Final vote, according to Herman Mohle, president of the Teachers' Council, was 35 to 1 in favor of the plan. New salaries will become effective Sept. 1.

Under the new schedule, salaries will range from $4,300 for beginning teachers to $10,500 for those with 20 years of experience.

"Based on the increased growth in Dist. 59s annual valuation, more careful performance, on an extended services contract. Under the new plan, a minimum of $3,850 and a maximum of $10,500.

IF A TEACHER is on a career contract, he can earn up to an additional 10 per cent for extra responsibilities and assignments.

Under the new plan, the total cost of the salaries and benefits for the district will be $4,015,750.

Valuation, more careful ing, and increased state aid for the 1,600 new children who will enter the schools next fall, we can take care of the deficit," said a superintendent Dr. Donald Thomsen.

The 59 schools are Jefferson Low in Arlington Heights, Lincoln in Des Plaines, and Forest View Elementary in Northbrook.

Brantwood, Einstein, and High Ridge in Oakbrook, and eight El Grove Village buildings.

Rare Bird at Persin and Robbins

B. Persin of Persin and Robbins Jewellers is the proud owner of just four such swans in the United States.

The rare hand-cut bird is an exact reproduction of a real swan. It is a "sculptured" not molded, from a solid cube of lead crystal, 13 inches long and 10 inches high. A separate cut-glass flower, an enormous, flame lily, is in the glass "water" beneath the swan.

The unusual crystal set is product of three generations of Lalique, famous glassmakers in the Alsace region of France. Early clients of the Lalique family were glass dealers Cartier and Boucheron, and international personalities such as Sarah Bernhardt.

The process used is a secret one, starting with glass containing 24 per cent lead oxide. Many painstaking operations including flaming, beading, and wheel polishing and a great deal of hand work, produce the soft finish, contrasting with clear areas, representing feathers and other details.

The set is on display at Persin and Robbins, 24 S. Dearborn, Arlington Heights, for anyone to view. Browers are welcome. The swan is priced at $500, the mirror at $119 and the flower at $18.75.

Cards Mash Pirates, Lose Exhibition

BY TOM WALSH

Arlington High School's varsity basketball team came through with the ravens of the night on Friday, outlasting the visiting Cards 54-42 in a game that was a real test of the team's ability. McGuirey and Liddell also teamed for the Cardinals' on-site scoring punch. McGuirey topped all scorers with 21 points on six of 11 field goal attempts and nine of 10 free throws. Liddell had 15 points, all in the first half, on six of six shot attempts and three of four free throws. Palatine's Brian Schell led the Pirates' scoring effort with 17 points, connecting on six of 20 field goals and six of seven free throws for his team-leading total.

comforable 54-42 lead and strong back in the final night minutes to outscore the Pirates, 15-11, setting the final mark at 65-53. The loss was Palatine's eighth straight in as many staged games. Arlington's victory held the Cards and the fourth place with Conant at the extremely tight Mid-Suburban League title chase. Coming of the victory over Palatine, Arlington dropped an exhibition to Libertyville on Saturday.

The two teams were swapped through the first minutes of the third quarter. Arlington's biggest lead being two points. With the Cards tied 18-18 with 47 seconds remaining in the quarter, Libertyville took advantage of a pair of quick fouls by Arlington's Chris Buttenuto to grab a four-point lead at the three-quarter mark at 24-18.

Deva Ertori (14) won Don Baking (23) as a screen as he drives Saturday in St. Victor's loss to St. George. Dragon guard Rick Kelly (23) moves to cut off Ertori, who led the Lions in the 24-20 defeat with 15 points.

Lions Split CPL Double-Bill

BY CHRIS NEWMAN

Basketball, as all sports, involves a combination of brains and brawn. The St. Victor Lions earned a split in two Chicagoan Prep League games this weekend, as they met two opponents at different times and days in the amount of brains and brawn they displayed.

The Lions whipped St. Joseph of Westchester, 70-61, Friday night, then dropped a 55-49 decision to St. George of Evanston Saturday. The weekend split left St. Victor with a 1-1 record and a sixth place standing in the conference.

In defeating St. Joseph's, the Lions' game Friday night, the Lions used a fast-break, run-and-shoot offense, with the defense rebounding by Greg Doyle and Dave Ertori, and aided by the slowness of St. Joseph's in falling back on defense.

The first quarter was fairly even, Jack Brawley's first outside shooting accounted for eight of the 14 points. Bob Walsh's offensive rebounding led the Chargers from falling two far behind.

In the second quarter, however, the St. Victor lead broke began working. From the 14-13 first quarter, the Lions pulled ahead to a 33-21 lead at 1:26 remaining in the half.

With Doyle and Ertori getting the defensive rebound, and Brawley setting up Ertori, Bill Yeager, and Don Reising for easy shots. The Lions' tricked backboard, often making mental mistakes in failing to drop back to cover Brawley and Ertori when they broke.

In the second half, the Lions offense slowed down, and the home team began to pick away at the lead. St. Joseph kept putting winning shots in the paint, but was guilty of too many turnovers to seriously threaten.

In the last quarter, however, their full court press became a little more vicious than before. The Dragon's full-court press was a lot tighter, and the forwards were always alert to prevent the break off the key.

The Dragon's jump ball was a little more vicious than before. The Dragon's jump ball was a little more vicious than before. The Dragon's jump ball was a little more vicious than before. The Dragon's jump ball was a little more vicious than before.

rebounded and scored nine points to keep the game close. Coupled with some good outside shooting by Doyle and Ertori, Reising's drive pulled the Lions to within four at 42-38 with about three minutes left. Then, the thing which had bothered St. Victor all night long, the bad pass, came back to haunt them. They threw four opportunities to the Lions in the last three minutes, and the visitors added another basket to their lead.

Planners Offer Services In Park Dist. Referendum

BY TED LACEY

Two representatives of professional services offered to assist in the Park District's referendum on Jan. 23.

Thomas Jay of Howard W. May & Associates, Inc., financial consultants, announced that the firm would be submitting a proposal to the board a few months ago.

Plans offered to help prepare plans for getting the bond issue approved for approximately $2.5 million.

The firm would require three to six months of time to prepare, and could cost between $5,000 and $7,500.

Lehman suggested that, with a master plan, the park's financial picture would seem more realistic and the future would have more continuity in the future.

Dialogue

"Since it's the thing these days to meet an organization to promote whatever it is that someone has to promote, I've been giving some thought to starting an organization of my own."

"What kind of a group would that be, a Dialogue Organization, where everyone meets and talks to each other, as you'll have more material for your column?"

"Of course not. There's plenty of material everywhere for this space. All you have to do is try to pay attention when other people are talking, be observant of all the things that are going on in the community, state and nation, know a lot of the news media and do a lot of reading in your spare time."

"Once you've done all that, you merely discard it all and write about the first thing that comes to your mind."

"No, I'm sorry I asked. So what, after all that, is the new organization to be about?"

"Well, after giving it a lot of thought, and taking note of all the groups and societies promoting this or that, I think that a large majority of the people in the country, and in the world perhaps, would be eligible to join."

"We already have 'The Great Society.' You're not thinking of anything that, are you?"

"No, this one wouldn't charge the high then that 'The Time Society' charges."

"What does?"

"You know. Taxes. I saw some figures recently that showed such of an work about two hours a day just to pay our taxes."

"Anyway, the society I'm thinking about would be called the 'I Want to Get Involved Society.'"

"Involved in what?"

"Don't be alarmed. I just want the people who are the 'doers,' the ones you never hear much about, get together and have their wishes known for a change."

"In speaking of the people who don't often find their names in the paper because they're only doing what they're expected to do, like the policemen, firemen, teachers, elected public officials who 'get involved' doing their job every day and are that taken for granted."

"Or the members of the P.A., the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the American Legion, the VFW, the Lions, the Elks, the Moose and all other such organizations. They're always 'getting involved' in a positive way, but you never hear much about them, because they're not doing it for publicity."

"Would there be any place in your organization, John, for dissenters who have so much to say about the way things are?"

"I'm afraid not. Most of them talk a lot, but few of them get to get involved in anything."

Miniskirts Not Fattening

Every red-blooded American made was relieved to learn that a government warning about the perils of wearing miniskirts in cold weather was just a hoax.

Some ways at the Federal Housing Administration in Washington were just pulling the generally exposed legs of female coworkers when they circulated a "bulletin" from the agency's Health Division that claimed that cold temperatures cause a rapid build-up of fatty molecules in said unprotected limbs.

Life is Just One Sweet Chord After Another

BY JIM CRONLEY

is born who can harmonize as naturally as he breathes. Sing a "do" and he'll sing "mi" or "fa" or "sol." Every so often a youngster whole string that harmonizes. Not only simple chords. Difficult ones too. This chap is going to have a wondrous, frictionless life if he doesn't find his way eventually into the SPESBOS.

Comedy Four being one of the best remembered. Then, backslapping found an even greater place in the early days of the phonograph.

IN A SENSE, it is a bit of the past, perhaps the outgrowth of the uncomplaining structure of church hymns.

Before the Depression, chords of youngsters would gather in the evenings to harmonize under street lights as naturally as combs get together.

In someone's home recreation room today to fill the neighborhood with amplified guitar music.

A last attorney and an investment banker founded SPESB in Tulsa in 1936. It was an immediate success and has grown until there are 1,000 registered quartets and 6,000 functioning choruses.

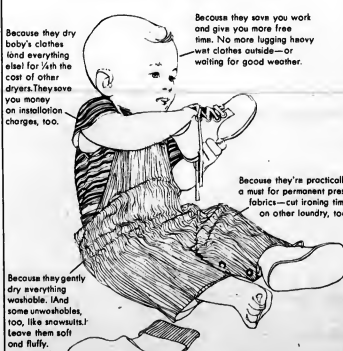

CHAPTERS meet regularly for song and guitar, following the quartet members, like the lot of them, have to be willing to sacrifice time and family to their hobby.

Good groups can go far. There is an annual contest which pyramids from hundreds of quartets competing at the time, through 45 "qualifying" groups, on upward to five international Medallion trials in order. The Buffalo Bills were No. 1 a few years ago when led to their fame.

The Four Statesmen—so named because their member each from New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island—are the current international champions.

Indicative of the devotion the hobby calls for is the fact that the Statesmen travel a total of 800 miles a week in rehearsal.

BY BETTY ANDSIE
It's the little things that count, by golly. All the small special work savers we take for granted every day and maybe some I've selected here will help you too.

There's a little gadget in my kitchen I'd hate to do without. Dishwasher, disposal, all the wonderful modern conveniences all lightening the housework at the touch of my finger tip are excellent of course, and one I'd hate to do without is actually a my size foot telephone cord that is my savior.

Most of my friends have this long, curly cord and we carry on our kitchen pedal and still catch up on our chatting.

DISHES TO DO or table to clear? No problem. With the long cord I merely cradle the receiver under my chin and get on with my work. The long cord lets me wander all around the kitchen, get the meat, clear up, mix a cake, and rinse out a few things while gabling with the girls.

And what did I ever do without DISNEY little gadget numbering from one to ten which heats an electric blanket to exactly right (on my side that is) Fog can dial just for medium and don't be fighting over the bed.

The blanket dual control-a marvelous invention.

A friend of mine highly recommended the kitchen broom. Not just any old broom, but a Bungee electric with the special buffer attachment that clips on to the flash and keeps her floors bright and shiny, and cuts down on the number of times you need to hand scrub.

A quick pickup daily works well with floor looking epic and spans in no time.

THIS WAS one gadget I figured I could do without, but its very lightness and portability is perfect for the daily sweep and it is strong enough to get under most furniture.

A perfect helpmate for a kitchen floor of stained carpet, under beds and in general, a former little gadget and something I couldn't do without.

Then there's a little spray can I've almost hated to part with. It's the spray starch that diffuses up a blouse or a lamp shade in a happy addition to ironing day.

IF I MUST iron I sure want all the help I can get and a good spray starch comb is a steam iron that makes the dreaded chafe fun.

Have many garbage bags? Who doesn't? I've found some plastic bags put the right size to fit over the edge of a small waste basket which is convenient under the sink.

The bags do not leak and you'll have the nearest garbage can in the block as well as to always clean waste basket. Costs a mile more than the free grocery bags but they're worth it especially if you've a small helper who has taking out the garbage as one of his chores.

PENS Come and pen go in my life and my handwriting remains strictly legible to all but my eyes. One pen was as good as another and never failed to leave the home fire burning. The key can be found by drycleaners and laundries.

Now these broad markings pens, but one that fits the hand neatly and glides easily across the paper. They can be carried in the purse or pocket, only cost 50 cents and don't need to be coaxed into writing as soon as the point is applied to paper.

Have you tried out the long fireplace match? They work especially well in saving a scorched finger when getting that paper and kindling going in the fireplace and for lighting the candles at your dinner parties.

Speaking of lighting a fireplace fire, we have something which was tested with the new house and proved to be a dandy, a gas starter for logs. Built into the fireplace and turned on with a key, it does away with the messy business of paper and kindling to get the logs going.

It works especially well with logs that might not be completely dried out. It's something we would never have known or bothered to look for, but it has really been a joy to have the home fire burning. The key can be found by drycleaners and laundries.

BY RICHARD CRABB
Caught in a tight squeeze between rapidly rising costs and slowly rising revenues, the school district of suburban Cook County are conducting a second round of special elections. It is possible that 40 per cent of all elementary school districts in Cook County will hold referenda during the year ending June 30 for the purposes of increasing tax revenues.

A few days ago The Day presented a compilation of last year's special tax elections in Cook County. The report revealed that taxpayers in District 22 of Arlington Heights paid a $1.46 educational rate. Nation's other school districts had higher educational rates. The highest educational rate was the $1.78 for Evanston elementary schools.

Mother, Baby Fine—Thanks To Policemen

Mrs. Marlene Heathery of Waukegan, and her newborn son are doing fine in the Northwest Community Hospital today, and have Arlington Heights Policemen to thank for it.

At 5:19 p.m. yesterday, William J. Heathery telephoned police and said his wife was about to deliver a baby and he was not able to get to the hospital in time.

Even the holidays did not save the police from the emergency. Twenty-two officers on school at the time were held during November and December. A number of school referenda are being held this month. The number of special elections could reach a new high in March and April.

These factors have combined to bring about a record number of school buildings.

Hersey Construction Lags 6 Weeks Behind Schedule

BY MAXINE TYMA
The target date for the completion of John Hersey High School in Arlington Heights, Ill., is Aug. 1, says Architect Wayne Frick of the Hersey, Keller, Utmost, Seeger & Assoc. firm, sole members of the Board of Education of High School District 214. Monday that construction of the school is six weeks behind schedule.

In some sections of the work, Frick said, there is a 12-week lag.

"We do not have the academic area in time," he said.

"We would like to have the foundation finished early and would like to start work on the gym floor Aug. 1. We would like to finish the gym floor by Sept. 1," the architect said.

He said the band and physical education and the physical education facilities would not be completed.

FRICK said the general contractors, Miesner, had written to the architect Dec. 2 requesting a 45-day extension of the completion date and an additional payment of $100,000 for the extension, pumping due to June and July.

Frick said he denied both requests without comment. The Board of Education "primarily because they did not document the number of days they were held up due to weather."

He said that the contractor would be permitted to ask for an extension of time only within seven days of the cause of the delay and that the request must go directly to the architect.

"It is a tight schedule. Hopefully we're not going to lose any more time. We have had no difficulty with manpower but now we have to find the days to work," Frick said.

HERSEY HIGH SCHOOL, the sixth in the district, will open this September to accommodate students in the of Arlington Heights and Prospect Heights.

Other high schools in the district are: Arlington, Prospect Heights, Westmont and Elk Grove.

Frick said that some good news on construction costs for the board members. The contractor has existing work for which $5,000 for the deletion of plaster shows that the superintendent's estimate in the calling of the Education.

Frick said the new Life Safety Code did not require the additional plastering so that the work was able to be deleted from the contract budget.

He said that the contractors that the contract with Miesner does not include a penalty clause for being late with the building, nor does it include a bonus clause for finishing the building ahead of schedule.

Construction of John Hersey High School in Arlington Heights is 6-12 weeks behind schedule but the school architect told members of the District 214 Board of Education.

New Health Group Pushes for Clinic Site

BY MEL MILES

Officials of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Assn. met last night with the Rolling Meadows Park Board of Commissioners and presented an article about the new outpatient mental health clinic they would like to construct on a 15-acre site owned by the district near the Clearbrook Center for the Retarded.

The board is the third governmental agency the site should be used for recreational facilities. The clinic, they said, would serve undesirable people and would increase waste traffic in the neighborhood.

The Arlington Heights Park Commission then ruled that the mental health group must obtain a "special use permit" before construction could start, noting that the site was not zoned for a mental health clinic.

planned to construct the $150,000 clinic on land in Arlington Heights purchased from the Dist. 59 school board. The site was adjacent to the Juliette Low School in the Surrey Ridge subdivision.

After final plans were drawn for the building and a press conference had been held to announce the impending construction of the clinic, residents of the area taunted an organized protest.

THE HOMEOWNERS said that the site should be used for recreational facilities. The clinic, they said, would serve undesirable people and would increase waste traffic in the neighborhood.

The Arlington Heights Park Commission then ruled that the mental health group must obtain a "special use permit" before construction could start, noting that the site was not zoned for a mental health clinic.

Several months ago, representatives of the association met with Mount Prospect village officials and received an unequivocal offer of assistance in finding a new site. The group was including Malcolm Young, chairman of the village plan commission and Mayor Daniel Conner, among several visits and urged association officials to initiate negotiation to acquire one of the sites.

LAST MONTH, however, an association spokesman said that all efforts at negotiation had failed. "Either the site was unavailable for our needs or the price was prohibitive," he said.

William Radtke, president of the association, said last night that his group has not made any definite plans regarding the Rolling Meadows site. Representing the association's board of directors.

Weber showed park officials a drawing of the proposed clinic—the same sketch that was unveiled at the Arlington Heights press conference almost a year and a half ago.

The park commissioners, who have not yet indicated what they intend to do with the site, are expected to reach a decision later this year.

Village to Request Bids For S. Side Fire Station

By Charles Mourshead

Bids for a fire station in the far south side of Arlington Heights are being sought in the middle of February, Village Manager L. A. Hanson said yesterday.

The new station will have plans prepared for bids at the end of the month. The village's third station will be located on the west side of Arlington Heights Rd. between Arlington and Golf Rds., on property already owned by the village.

The new station will look much like the existing one behind the village hall at Arlington Heights Rd. and State St., he said.

he built later at the far north side of Arlington Heights but a date for construction of that facility has not yet been set.

The idea would be to have one fire station within one and one-half miles of every point in the village, according to Hanson.

The far south station will be able to house four fire trucks but operations will be high with one truck at Arlington Heights Rd. and one at the village hall.

Harvey Carothers, fire chief, said the village will look much like the existing one behind the village hall at Arlington Heights Rd. and State St., he said.

The new facility will adequately serve the south side of the village as far north as the business district, Carothers said.

THREE FIREMEN will be stationed at the far south side facility on each of the four fire trucks.

New Carothers said, four men are stationed around the clock at the facility on each of the four fire trucks.

Temporarily, Carothers said, firemen will be stationed at the far south side facility on each of the four fire trucks.

Students Learn by Doing

BY RICHARD CRABE

Some 900 junior high school students are the year making the big transition from learning by being told to learning by experimenting for themselves.

The Arlington Heights Public Schools of Dist. 12 this year are adopting a new science program called IPS or Introductory Physical Science. The program was put through a period of evaluation and testing last year.

The course is so new that many of the teachers giving it are going to school themselves. Al Kaye, Bill Leonard and Robert Harris, all of Junior Junior High School, and Ray Schorn and Frank Bruck of Thomas Junior High School are taking special training under the direction of the National Science Foundation, at Rosemont University.

The teachers and students like the new program. James Macgregory, director of science curriculum in Dist. 25, said "We adopted IPS after teachers and students enthusiastically responded to the new program in its pilot period at Arlington Heights High School last year."

"An objective of junior high school science," explained Macgregory, "is to get students actively involved in doing actual experiments and doing them themselves so they can learn by doing."

FRANK DEKONSKI, teacher of the new program at Thomas Junior High, explains the new approach in this way: "The major thing is that the youngsters are finding the answers for themselves rather than my telling them."

The new course is more than a text book. It is an active science course with the study of "matter" as its central theme. Emphasis is placed on students performing laboratory experiments and analyzing their own data. The textbook discussions lead directly to laboratory investigations. Students are encouraged to perform experiments with a minimum of teacher direction. They use simple apparatus that is easily assembled and used.

Greg Conley, Thomas Junior High School eighth grader, is in the new 'by yourself' IPS course being offered to 900 junior high school students in Arlington Heights. He is conducting an experiment which he planned himself to study the liquid transfer of fluid.

Morley McMillan, eighth grader at Thomas Junior High School of Dist. 25, holds a test tube in the new 'by yourself' IPS course being offered to 900 junior high school students in Arlington Heights this year. The emphasis in the new course is upon "try it and see for yourself" what happens.

New Postal Rates For GI Parcels Mailed Overseas

Package up to 30 pounds for American military personnel overseas served by certain Army and Fleet Post Office can be sent by air at special low rates since Jan. 7.

Persons using this new service will get much faster delivery to military personnel overseas. The airmail is serviced on a space-available basis upon payment of the domestic parcel post surface rate plus a flat $1 fee.

POSTAL PATRONS can get the airmail service on packages mailed to military personnel at APO and FPO addresses, serving Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The new airmail also applies to parcels mailed back to the States by servicemen through these military post offices.

In many instances the new airmail rates are considerably lower than comparable air parcel post charges.

For example, a mother sending a 15 pound package from Mount Prospect to her son in Vietnam pays $4.30 for the new airmail service. The air parcel post rate for the same package is $12.08.

IT IS NOT always to the sender's advantage to use the airmail service. On some light packages air parcel post may be lower than the airmail charges.

Postal patrons should check with the post office about the best way to mail parcels to servicemen overseas.

Herebefore airmail for parcels to servicemen overseas was restricted to packages weighing up to five pounds.

Telephone Co. Offers Tips For Emergencies

Officials of the Central Telephone Co. of Illinois have a few suggestions to residents in their service area in case of emergency.

Central officials say all problems which might cause an emergency could be solved if a few basic procedures are followed.

All residents should write the number and name of the fire department in their area, in the front of the telephone book. This is especially important, officials say, for residents in unincorporated areas where many fire districts have been formed.

In case of emergency, and the resident does not know whom to call, simply call the operator for help. Operators are trained to handle all types of emergency, and will give assistance where needed.

Central Telephone, formerly called Delta States, serves the Des Plaines area, and some unincorporated areas north and south of that city.

Mohair Invades the Scene

BY MARILYN HELPERS
Women's Editor

Mohair has invaded the spring fashion scene. Bright, light and fluffy mohair outfits have been lashed on to belts and around the neck.

Mohair's natural warmth and light as a breeze make it the ideal fabric for spring's temperamental weather—cold or warm, you'll be comfortable.

SPRING mohair coats are available in three lengths—mini-mini, just above the knee and elegant floor-length for evening. The mini-mini is actually a "mini-skirt" with a short-sleeved, belted collar, belted waist and wide-leg trousers. It's a delightful partner for dresses, skirts and slacks.

Flare-sleeved mohair playshapes a happy-go-lucky wear, waist-cinched with a tie belt, that swings at just-above-the-knee length.

The new styling trend away from the angular line and toward the softening curve is apparent in the wide-leg, patch pockets and wide-waisted tops, defined by welt seams. This is a day-in-day-out coat fight as a feather and still comfortably warm.

AFTER the spring sun has set, out for the evening comes the glamorous coat of than all—a floor-length sweep of airy mohair, accented with huge jeweled buttons, and with two pockets that resemble in growth, high-waisted silhouettes.

Mohair's affinity for color produces colors that compare with the best of the dyeing process. Famous for being brown, navy, black, white, and off-white, mohair is also available in a wide range of colors, including red, green, blue, and yellow.

Mohair, produced by the Rocky Ridge Angora goat, has been prized by fashion for centuries. As long as the 15th century, it was used for the cloths of mohair were imported from Turkey, in Venice, at the bank at 1450, a substantial mohair was done on raincoats made of mohair.

The Angora goat originated in Turkey, where it has been cultivated for thousands of years. In 1849 the first herd of wens does and two books, was imported to the U.S. Today the U.S. is the world's leading producer of mohair, raising about 100,000 goats annually with 97 per cent coming from Texas.

The boyish, lofty mohair scarf with vibrant colors will give a lift to your spring wardrobe.

When adding a fashion jacket to your spring wardrobe select the color with care to give you maximum pleasure with the dress and skirt to your current wardrobe. The very recent one, styled by Emily Wetherby, has induced retail detailing of matched coats, skirt suits and side vests. Fabric is all American woolen mohair. Colors are cherry red, electric blue, navy, coral, emerald, black, white and pastels. Available at Marshall Field.

There's a happy-go-lucky swing about this wrap coat by David Lee. It's a mohair plaid. The soft tie belt catches the waist with a casual flair; vest wearing defines the rounded lines of the patch pockets and wide-lapelled lapels. Available in size 34-36 in green/white and navy/white at Marshall Field and Co.

A fluff of mohair playshapes by Womans, to light it almost seems to float, with a new crop of formal elegance in this graceful wrapcoat by Ragel. Available in the 34-36 in white and pink at Mittels B. Oppenheimer.

In Need of Uniforms

When you're cleaning your closet and find any surplus of a young boy of 8 or 9, making a lot of a uniform, don't throw it away. Cub Scout Pack 151 has taken on the project of supplying uniforms to 45 Cub Scouts in the area.

The boys in Pack 151 will bring any outgrown uniforms of their own, or of boys who have advanced to Boy Scouts, to their Jan. 25 meeting at Fairview School.

Elk Grove Earns Season's 1st Swim Triumph, 60-35

Elk Grove's swim team won its first victory of the season Tuesday, pulling past Elwood Park, 60-35.

The Grizzlies won both relay and pool freestyle events in five individual events to improve their record to 1-1.

After Mike Callahan, Eric Dawson, Phil Nyeck, and Paul Phillips had shared Elk Grove's victory in the 200-yard medley relay in 2:00.2, freshman Bob Jacobson then won the 50-yard freestyle in 26.8 seconds to push the Grizzlies into a 1-1 lead and Elwood Park never got closer than 35-31.

PETER LOREILLE in the 200-yard freestyle, Nyeck in the 100-yard butterfly, Kane Bauer in the 100-yard breaststroke, and Mike Somers in the 400-yard freestyle earned Elk Grove's other individual firsts. Jacobson, Steve Back, Loreille, and Bob Hansen teamed to win the 400 freestyle relay.

The Grizzlies' triumph, hampered by a tired swimmer, broke a nine-day losing streak, earning a 4-1 record.

Elk Grove had firsts in the 200-yard medley relay and four individual events. Rich Kirkwood won both the 100-yard individual medley and the 200-yard freestyle. Mike Maury took the 50-yard butterfly, and Jack Imada took the 100-yard backstroke.

Dialogue

"What did I want to discuss today? Well, at first I thought I'd mention that we're in the middle of National Ski Week."

"But then I realized that it's an unusual week. It lasts more than seven days, running from Jan. 19 to Jan. 28."

"And I also realized it would bring on such remarks as 'This is National Ski Week—take a folk to lunch,' so I gave up on the whole idea."

"I would think, when you think about something more important, the North Koreans capturing a U.S. Navy intelligence ship and taking it and its crew into a N. Korean port."

"Yes, that's an interesting subject. I'm sure we haven't heard the last of that and maybe we haven't heard the beginning either."

"According to the official story last June, when a similar ship, the USS Liberty was attacked by Israeli fighters in their short war with the Arabs, the Liberty had powerful radar and was in constant communication with Washington."

"So the Pentagon and the White House used that information to inflame charges or excuse brought forth by the Israelis."

"They said that little about this time, so it's interesting to speculate what really happened."

"Oh, maybe. I'm sorry to hear you, but there's a daily into about that subject and says for us to speculate."

"He doesn't 'wait' but he says to shove off. This is the U.S. Navy."

"We know we, captain, but he says he knows who we are, and would better let a hearing party come over the side or he'll be trouble."

"Doesn't he know I can't do that? I'm a reporter from Washington? Call Washington and ask them what we should do?"

"No, captain, I'm back home. I called Washington, but he's the middle of the night there and only a 3rd Class Boatsman was on duty. He said he'd try to contact the officer on duty and would call me back."

"Well, try again. I can't do anything but submit a subscription right from the spot. Tell them three more patrol boats are coming up and there's a couple of fighter planes we picked up on our radar."

"Captain, I got through to the O.D. to be sure, but he won't know if it's important enough to wake up the President."

"Tell him I think so, but we'll have to go to the air, because the North Koreans are coming aboard. Tell the President I'll send him a letter."

For Pollution Control

We're All on 'Dirty Air' Map

Your new address, northeast suburbia, is "Great Lakes Northeast."

This does not mean you can stop using street numbers or village names to indicate where you live. And heaven to Betsy, above all, be sure to keep jotting down your zip code as the final part of your home address.

It simply means that, since Jan. 16, you can consider yourself an inhabitant of a newly-designated section set up in one of the pollution control areas of the United States.

ON THAT DAY, eight atmospheric areas covering 48 States were defined by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, as shown on the official map, as a required step to develop and apply air quality standards to deal with air pollution on a regional basis, as provided by the Air Quality Act of 1967, signed into law last Nov. 21.

Areas covering Alaska and Hawaii will be specified later.

Our "Great Lakes Northeast" area includes nearly all of New England, all except the extreme southern part of New York State, northeastern Pennsylvania, the northern two-thirds of Ohio and Indiana, all of Michigan, most of Wisconsin and the northeastern parts of Illinois, including of course Chicago and Milwaukee.

THE INITIAL division of the country into areas is itself just an indication of how seriously the war on pollution will be pressed. Next step will to be broken down these segments into regions, including groups of communities. In the same or different states, that share common "dirty air" problems.

Factors to be considered when forming these regions will focus on meteorological and topographical data, jurisdictional boundaries, the extent of urban-industrial concentrations, and the nature and location of air pollution.

Chief basis in determining the boundaries of the eight atmospheric areas was the occurrence of thermal inversions.

In which a layer of warm air above an air mass tends to keep polluting elements from being dispersed, and on the basis of wind direction and speed.

Major topographical features such as the Rocky Mountains were also taken into account.

THE BOUNDARY lines represent zones of change, rather than sharp cut-off points. Polluted air, not air flows from one atmospheric area to another, and communities in adjoining or different areas may have the same pollution problems simultaneously.

The war on dirty air has just been declared.

"If divide and conquer" is the motto, the first step is to map the areas.

perhaps the first step has been taken to achieve it, by mapping these few lines on the map.

Letters to the Editor

Objects To Day Story

Editor:

I wish to take exception to the front page headline, picture and article in the Tuesday, Jan. 16, edition of the Arlington Day. Phone calls to two editors and the reporter have resulted in their admission that the picture caption and the first column of the article are factually incorrect.

I wish to go further and say that the entire article as written is misleading and garbled to the point it is difficult to know how to straighten the matter out. However, I attempt to do just that.

First, the Monday night meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Arlington Heights Park Manor homeowners who were in attendance and who were to be heard, President Woods arranged to have the item put on the agenda for a special meeting of the Board of Trustees set for Jan. 20.

At this point I asked to leave with them a letter setting out the problems which we felt might arise from the use of the park for the residents of the single family dwellings, both new and old.

I would appreciate your printing that letter in full, by way of a correction and clarification.

Second, several of the other owners attributed to me, not verbal as is implied in the article, but were part of the letter submitted by the homeowners. A copy of the letter had been furnished the reporter at his request, in the belief he would in this way be better informed.

Third, and to the most distressing point, is the quotation at the end of the article concerning the actions of the Plan Commission. This quote is totally incorrect—it was never stated in writing by me nor given verbally before the Plan Commission or the Board of Trustees, or in any conversations with your reporter.

Since I do not hold the "new" given by my quote, I know we not have made the statement.

The members of the Board of Trustees are aware that the 8-5 zoning was in effect at the time when the builder is entitled to proceed with his plan. The development as long as it is completed with village residents and who were in attendance and who were to be heard, President Woods arranged to have the item put on the agenda for a special meeting of the Board of Trustees set for Jan. 20.

The prime concern of the homeowners Association is to see that everything possible is done to alleviate the problems of the apartment development, which plan for the residents of the single family dwellings, both new and old.

I would appreciate your printing that letter in full, by way of a correction and clarification.

Mrs. Walter J. Dunn, Jr.

Manager and Mrs. Marjorie Quade in the morning.

"Ed looks on his new office as a 'balding' indeed to continue the fine growth that the Chamber has shown." Ed also said that he feels honored to have been chosen President.

He commends the Board of Directors on which he served because he said their "integrity and enthusiasm is obvious at the director's meetings where any of our coming in for the good of the city and attention is given to all business and industries," he said. "All business and industries," he said. "All business and industries," he said. "All business and industries," he said.

ED IS PROUD also of the fact that he has been chosen to follow the examples of leadership of past presidents, Robert W. Wilson, Fritz Wolf, Harold Merton and John, Jerry Rutherford of the Junior Civic and Junior Union of U.S. radio station WNCN.

Housewife Becoming A Handyman

The weekend wife against war and the average home in the northwest suburbs formerly engaged the sole skills and strength of the man of the house.

To his delight, however, in recent years more and more wives have been the appearance of his name on the home as he prepares to get going on tedious and irritating jobs, and armed with the proper tool, she has frequently demonstrated her hand in the know-how and the patience to handle the work competently. THE DAY MAY come when, instead of merely checking off his prospective spouse's abilities in the fields of kitchen, kids and the wide range area of the cultural arts, the husband-to-be will have a checklist something like this:

Can she change a tire? Can the mower's engine be cleaned? Can she fix a faucet? Does she know how to mend a shirt? Can she get the right spot? (Add you own items to your own list, as the recipe experts put it.)

WE MEN, by considering what is a roster of checkmarks may be doing by the aid in search of the provider of her dream.

She'll probably turn the tables by getting curious about his ability to cook something besides a mere TV dinner, or want to know what he can do to remove stains on rugs, carpets, or drapes, or whether he has ever made up a bed (except when he was in G.I. uniform and did it by the numbers).

Come to think of it, the usual quiz could be a fun thing - and who knows? It could be the key to a new way of life, with both parties suddenly aware of hidden "gold" mines, bonuses right at hand.

There are millions of them. These are families of the 20th century. The Arts Center demonstration program that gives more than 500 Ridge School children from kindergarten through fifth grade a chance to learn about the

Make an Address File

Many of us are updating our address books by adding zip codes and new addresses learned from our holiday mail so it is a good time to switch from an address book to an address file.

Use 3 x 5 cards and a set of alphabetized index cards.

Use one card for each address, giving the names of the family members and any pertinent information you may have, such as the children's ages, birthdays, etc.

Use a separate card for each of the above and the new card will be a handy little shopping card.

A program on "Will and Estate Planning" will be presented at 8 p.m. Monday, Jan. 29 at 1127 Madison Dr., Rolling Meadows, for members of Kappa Delta Sorority of the Northwestern Suburban Alumnae Association.

Guest speaker Richard Nelson of McLennan and Nelson Law Office in Park Ridge will include in his talk topics of interest for those of all age groups and marital status.

Nelson is a graduate of Ripon College, Wis., and was admitted to the bar in 1962 and now resides in Park Ridge with his family.

Kappa Delta Sorority is planning to attend the meeting should Mrs. James W. C. 5407 by Saturday, Jan. 27.

New Kappa Delta in the area are cordially invited to join the group. Transportation may be secured by calling Mrs. Lighthouse Jorgensen, 352-2096.

St. Viator Spills St. Joseph, 69-26, Sets 3 Records

St. Viator's varsity swim team broke three school records and tied another one Wednesday, and had little trouble beating St. Joseph, 69-26.

Warming up for a big test at the Glenbrook South Trail Relay Saturday, the Lions won their first place in a relay of 11 events, and only missed making it 10 because one of their swimmers was disqualified in the freestyle relay for diving into the water too soon.

The Lions' four record-setting swimmers were Fred Schmidt, Rich Lynch, Bill Saigh, and Bill McCaffrey.

LYNCH tied a school record in the 100-yard freestyle with a 0:52.3. Schmidt broke the 100-yard butterfly mark with a 0:59.8. Saigh shattered the 100-yard backstroke mark with a 1:00.9, and McCaffrey upset a 1:00.9 in the 400-yard freestyle for the fourth record. Lynch, McCaffrey, and Schmidt all took first in other events. Lynch winning the 50-yard freestyle, McCaffrey the 200-yard freestyle, and Schmidt the 200-yard individual medley.

Saigh joined with Alan Kanaboy, Dan McGuire, and Dave Fenn to win the opening event, the 200-yard medley.

THE LIONS' other first came in diving, where Dave Heston came up with a 31.3 point performance. St. Viator also collected six seconds, by Steve Solberg in the 50-yard freestyle, Tom Murray in the individual medley, Jeff Foley in diving, Mark Abate in the 100-yard freestyle, and Kanaboy in the 100-yard backstroke.

The Lion frosh-soph record set a perfect 89.9 record, finishing 1-2 in all events.

the individual events and winning both relays.

BILL GREISER and Jim Flannigan each won twice. Flannigan in the 50-yard freestyle and 100-yard freestyle, and Greiser in the 100-yard individual medley and 50-yard butterfly.

Tom Gallagher took the 150-yard freestyle race. Dave Lakota won the 200-yard freestyle, Mike McMahon captured the 100-yard freestyle, and Tom Harrison had the diving in the 50-yard backstroke. Bill Costello won the diving competition for St. Viator.

Takana and Harrison combined with Mike Griffin and Jim Martin to win the 200-yard medley relay, while Gallagher joined Mike McMahon, Dan McGraw, and Mike Mike Conley to take the butterfly relay.

Jim Campana and Mark Schmidt each took two seconds, while McKen, Terry McCas, John Moran, Ed Stuebel, and Jeff Davis added one apiece.

He was 15-4 last season and has 13-2 mark, including nine shutouts, so far this year.

HIS COACH, Willie Myers, says he "has a good chance to place, and maybe even to win in this year's state meet."

Whitnell's last loss came Dec. 29 in the Palatine tournament, when Eddie East's Mike Thomas defeated him. Since then, Myers says, "he's become a decision maker. Constantly working constantly trying to be the best on the mat."

The Arlington coach has 112-2 record in 1967, and "when I was in seventh grade as a high schooler, I was making the 102 lb. class or something, but I was too small for it."

"I still wanted to do it," he said, "though, so I started wrestling."

Working at South Suburban, he says, "I've found that being small has at least one advantage: I don't have too much trouble keeping down on his wrestling. Period credit for that."

Whitnell won his 112-pound championship and was named by the coaches as the Mid-South League all-star squad.

And, Whitnell says, "my mother really helps me a lot, by making sure I watch my diet."

Mr. Whitnell may see the practice, because Jim is a younger brother who's already been named as the Cardinal wrestling team even though he's only in eighth grade. "I've seen Jim's brother in park wrestling," Myers says, "and I'm looking forward to seeing some more of him."

Card Wrestler Whitnell Pins Down Day Award with 7th Shutout in Row

Whitnell himself will only say that at the moment he's considering the University of Wisconsin at Oshkosh, the University of Nebraska, but definitely plans to wrestle wherever he goes.

Also nominated for this week's Day award was Steve Binkoff, the manager of the St. James eighth grade basketball team, Binkoff, nominated for the second week in a row, second in the points in a double overtime 36-35 St. James over Wayside Sunday.

All area athletes are eligible for the Allstate of the Week award. Nominations - which can be anonymous - should be made in The Day's Arlington Heights office, 317 S. Arlington Heights Rd., or by calling 255-7676. Nominations should be made before midnight Monday for the previous week's award.

Dave Schimpf
For 2-Mile Run

Former Arlington High School distance runner Dave Schimpf is a member of the Iowa State University track squad that opens its indoor season Saturday in a dual meet at the University of Wisconsin.

Schimpf, a sophomore, is one of the runners listed on the Cyclone roster. The quartet includes two lettermen, Terry Cline and Ken Gallagher.

Dave Mulvan nearly hit the ceiling at St. Viator Wednesday as he performed this dive, but he eventually landed a personal victory in the diving competition for him and toward the Lions' 69-26 win over St. Joseph. (Don Leasing Photo)

Y Boys Nip W, Suburban

The Northwest Suburban YMCA's boys swim team from Hall House of Chicago Saturday found from a tough 123-114 win over previously unbeaten West Suburban last weekend.

The Northwesters pulled the meet out in the last event - the 100-yard prep diving freestyle relay - when a West swimmer dove in the water too soon.

Nine Northwest pool records were set, four of them by Northwest, which swam its season winning relay to five dual wins without a loss. Northwest was second in West Suburban in the 18-swimmer Christmas Relay in Harvey.

JUNIOR DIVISION saw Erik Schwartz set two of Northwest's records Saturday, winning the 200-yard individual medley in 2:10.8 and the 100-yard backstroke in 1:00.8.

The other individual record, record-setter was Chris Chokas, who turned in a 1:18.5 in the prep 100-yard individual medley.

The junior 200-yard medley relay team set the fourth mark, ending off a 2:00.5.

ERIK WESTDALE picked up two firsts for Northwest, winning both the 50- and 100-yard freestyle races.

Three prep division swimmers added wins. Chokas complementing his medley record with a first in the 100-yard freestyle, Mike Salerno captured the 50-yard backstroke, and Doug Schick taking the 200-yard freestyle relay team also won. Bob Lakota, Dave Schmitt, John Chokas, and Schick combining for the victory.

IN THE MIDGET division, Kevin Soto won the 25-yard butterfly, while two cadet swimmers, Eric Crooks in the 25-yard backstroke and Tom Skuback in the 25-yard freestyle, added wins.

The cadets also won both relays, Crooks, Skuback, John Eliot, and Tom Gray winning the medley and Crooks, Eliot, Gray, and Dave Doster taking the freestyle.

If you guessed this was a mouthful last weekend, look at the bottom of St. Viator's pool, you were wrong. But if you guessed it was a line frosh-soph, you were right. So was Conley. He won the diving competition on the frosh level Wednesday as St. Viator's underclassmen shot St. Joseph, 86-9.

St. Viator's Bill McCaffrey stretches as he leaps off for the start of the 200-yard freestyle race Wednesday during the Lion - St. Joseph dual. McCaffrey finished up 1:00.9 later with a 4:33.4. It was one of four school records set or broken by Lion swimmers in the meet.

Katzler Poses Puzzlers In Whistle Stop Stumpers

BY JOHN KATZLER

Do you have your whistles ready? Today it's your turn to call the shots. I have judged ten fairly common situations that may occur in most any game. One or more of the answers given may be correct.

1. The ball hits the top of a 10-ft fan-shaped hoop and bounces over the top. It drops to the floor in bounds without touching any of the supports.

A — The ball is out of bounds in both cases. B — out of bounds in (1) only. C — in bounds in (1).

2. Play is stopped because of (1) a lost contact, (2) an untimed shot, (3) an injured player who is replaced within a minute and a half. A time out is charged in the related case in:

A — (1), (2) & (3). B — (1) & (2). C — (1) & (3).

3. While a player is dribbling, his teammate loses an opposing player.

A — Award a free throw — or award 1 — to the opponent. B — Call a player-control foul. C — Award no free throw, but give the opponents the ball.

4. A player is fouled in the act of shooting. Just before the shooter releases the ball, the horn sounds ending the period. The ball goes through the basket.

A — The goal counts. B — The goal does not count. C — Two free throws are awarded to the shooter. D — No goal is scored.

5. While straddling the foul-line, a player is fouled in the act of shooting. The foul is called.

A — Back count. B — Front count. C — No man's land. D — With the score 70-62 in favor of Prospect, Forester.

Second place, Louis Ward Builders also won, beating Branning 54-36, but is in losing games behind the Foxman with a record of 1-1.

IN WEDNESDAY'S other Classic League clash, "Shoe Shoemakers" posted its 24th points to lead St. Paul past the Old Pros, 81-47. St. Paul scored in league record 55 while the Pros are 3-7.

In Tuesday's Sportsman's League, Selgeren hammered the Dicksters 76-55, behind a 28-point outing by Bill DeBardis. The victory was the Sports' ninth in succession.

ALLEN'S NURSERY hung on to second place, defeating Selgeren, with a 63-34 thrashing of winners Fox Old Pros Empire, 44 points for the Nurseryers.

View makes a basket. At that time there are five seconds left in the game. Forest View calls for a time out. (1) is in the basket is picked up. (2) is in the basket is picked up.

A — (1) & (2). B — (1) & (3). C — (2) & (3). D — (1) & (3).

6. A — (1) & (2). B — (1) & (3). C — (2) & (3). D — (1) & (3).

7. Goal-tending may be necessary. A — Offense. B — Defense. C — Neither. Goal-tending is a basket term.

8. While a field goal attempt is in flight, or the ball is in the air, a defender player slaps the backboard. (1) the ball enters the basket, and in (2) the ball does not enter the basket.

A — Basket counts in (1) & (2). B — Award two points in (2); a technical foul is called against the defensive player in both cases.

9. On a jump ball, a jumper (1) taps the ball twice; (2) taps the ball with both hands; (3) catches the ball after the other jumper taps it.

A — Violation in all three cases. B — Violation in (1) & (2) only. C — Violation in (3) only.

Here are the answers, and anyone who picks is automatically charged with a technical foul.

1. C, 2. B, 3. B, 4. B, 5. A, 6. A, 7. A, 8. A, 9. B, 10. A, C.

Cats After 3rd Straight MSL Gym Win vs. Grens

Wheeling's varsity gymnastics team, just side horse man Kim Butler and all-around performer Steve Gieger will carry their 3-0 Mid-South League record against Elk Grove in the Great Gymnastics.

Butler is still bothered by an elbow injury incurred earlier in the season, and Wildcat coach Wayne Selvig and Wednesday night he'll rest him tonight. Gieger pulled a muscle last week and is still unable to perform.

SELVIG SAID he'd replace Butler with Dave Meyers, and use Cliff Hoffman on the horse, Gary Murray on the horizontal bar, and John Whittington on the parallel bars in place of the versatile Gieger.

Lessening the effects of the "Cat" injuries will be Elk Grove's lack of trampolines and tumblers.

Green coach Fred Gainer said he has decided to hold off promoting any additional changes to perform in the two events to fill the vacancies caused by disciplinary problems.

Winter at Wildlife Center

A little known area to visit which attracts nature-lovers is the River Trails Nature Center of the County Forest Preserve. It is the home for various forms of wildlife that are native to this section of the country. Photographer John Mueller visited the center recently to see what problems Naturalists Chet Ryndak and Thornton Stottling have during the winter months.

This bobcat is only one of many small animals on display at the River Trails Nature Center.

Test Device To Help Students Pick College

It's not a computer. It's not a slide rule. It has a name, the Sugenerator. It consists of 200 colored plastic sheets, 6 1/2 x 11 inches.

It will not wrap up a high school senior and deliver him to the college of his choice. But it will pinpoint, in minutes, just which colleges are suited to his needs, abilities, and interests.

AS A DEVICE to assist students, counselors, and parents, it is expected to be a tremendous improvement over previous study of the catalogs put out by the more than 2,300 colleges and universities across the country.

Evaluation is expected to be completed by August. Now being tested in high schools in the Chicago area, the Sugenerator was researched by Northwestern University under the direction of education professor B. Claude Mathis. The U. S. Office of Education made $150,000 available for the project.

A total of 217 characteristics are on the various sheets, such as "location: New England," "tuition, fees and board under $1,100," or "unemployment under 600."

TYPICAL CASE histories include a rural high school senior, interested in anthropology, looking for a midwestern university strong in social sciences; a parent short of funds, seeking a public college with costs below $500 a year, where he sees one way part time, and a guidance counselor in a technical high school seeking a list of U. S. colleges offering occupational programs in scientific data processing.

The coded numbers for 1,931 colleges, junior colleges, universities, and technical institutions are shown on each sheet. Transparencies appear in the numbers of schools with the characteristic indicated by the sheet. If a school does not have the characteristic, the space is opaque.

ALL YOU NEED do is put just the sheets showing the characteristics you want, then, turn them up to the light and read off the numbers where light appears.

Just turn to the explanatory manual which lists the colleges, addresses, etc.—and presto! you are on your way to the selection of the Alma Mater that fits your abilities and ambitions, and, hopefully, your pocketbook, too.

Young Adults Want Homes with Extras

Young adults hold the keys to the home you'll be buying tomorrow.

Charles Ewing, associate editor of national Journal of Home Building in Washington, D.C., said recently "The increasing income-potential of young adults is causing optimism among builders."

He said high interest rates in 1966 with a "tight" money policy hurt home building last year.

"IT WAS THE worst year in 20 years for home builders, but the situation seems to be improving everywhere."

"I understand building permits have been up about seven per cent over last year. That is a good indication things are looking up," Ewing said.

He was at the annual parade of homes to gather material for an article comparing new homes in different parts of the nation.

"PEOPLE in home building tell me conditions have been steady this year and builders seem enthusiastic," Ewing said.

Young adults got most of the credit.

"They have grown up in fairly prosperous times. Many of them have been used to nice homes and they don't want to move into something not as good," he said.

"THERE WERE about 1.8 million marriages in the United States last year. Of course, newlyweds may not rush out to buy a house right after the honeymoon, but home ownership becomes more attractive when children arrive. And most of these couples will have a child during the first two years of their marriages," Ewing said.

Ewing said the home he has seen offer many new features not available a few years ago—"such as indoor-outdoor carpeting and paneled garages that can double as extra rooms."

John R. Sontag, Realtor and president of Home to Home, Inc., has announced that Koerner & Poore, Inc., of 403 N. Northwest Highway, Palatine, Ill., recently became the 28th Chicago area real estate firm to join Home to Home, Inc., a franchising firm designed for Realtors to render greater customer service. Left to right — Mrs. Martha Koerner, Sontag and Mrs. Mary Poore.

Home-To-Home Adds 28th Office

John R. Sontag, president of Home to Home, Inc., 960 E. Northwest Hwy., Mount Prospect, announced Koerner & Poore, Inc., in Palatine, recently became the 28th Chicago area member office of his year old referral service organization.

"We have solved one of the most difficult and time consuming problems an out-of-town buyer is confronted with when he arrives in Chicago, Sontag said. Buyers save themselves days of frustration when they stop at a Home to Home office. Each office is well supplied with community guide books for this purpose. These books photo illustrate over 100 top Chicago area residential communities, giving statistics on schools, churches, transportation, taxes and many other interesting facts, including social and economic ratings.

Home to Home members pay an annual franchise fee for which they receive group advertising, sales aids, free corporation referral, and participation in referral fees paid direct between members on sales.

PRESENTLY THERE are eight Home to Home offices in the North Shore suburbs, including Libertyville and Round Lake, seven Northwest, ten West, and three in the South, including Homewood, Forestwood and Park Forest.

"Phase one of our expansion program is now completed in the Chicago area Sontag said. Phase two will take us into the Northeast States early in 1968. Our goal is to reach and assist buyers and sellers from coast to coast. Conscientious service has enabled Home to Home members to compete with national referral services. Our Park Ridge office did $337,500 worth of Home to Home referral business and our Mount Prospect office did $435,750 in 1967.

Planning Hints For That Special Room

Take thought for your tiny tot and for yourself as well when you're planning the nursery.

Of basic importance is to control both sound and light in baby's room.

Be sure there are carpets or at least scatter rugs on the floor leading to the crib. Otherwise each time you walk back to the crib to check on baby you'll sound like a thundering herd, disturbing his "quiet time."

The nursery can be bright and airy during the tot's waking hours, but be sure that the shades or screens shade the brightness out when it's time for sleeping. If you have drapes, it's a good idea to have them lightproof. If they are of heavy enough material, they also act as sound-deadeners.

Acquire 3 Major Apartment Complexes

Purchase of three large rental apartment complexes in Des Plaines, all located just off Golf Rd. (Rte. 58) immediately west of Golf Mill Shopping Center, has been announced by Kamsha, Inc., developers and builders of garden apartments in the Chicago area.

The purchase involves three separate groups of apartments: North Shore Apartments, Sherri Park Apartments and Terrace Park Apartments. Building and landscaping in all three is complete, with attractive face brick and various types of contrasting exterior finish used to give each apartment group — and the separate buildings within each group — distinctive and individual eye appeal.

In the total development, there are 127 buildings — most of them containing sixteen apartments. These are largely one- and two-bedroom units, with monthly rentals ranging from $15.50 to $22.50. In a total of 2,058 units, all unfurnished, is the complete development of three apartment groups.

RESIDENTS OF THE newly-purchased group of apartments are provided with a number of special facilities and services.

These include five pools, two large recreation buildings and a gymnasium.

These facilities are conveniently located and are available to any resident family whether they live in North Shore, Sherri Park or Terrace Park Apartments. These residents.

Other facilities for resident use include off-street parking, modern laundry equipment in each building, and a special shuttle bus service for residents of all three complexes — providing transportation on a regular basis to the Golf Mill Shopping Center, the pool and recreation buildings, children's play areas, public bus and train stops.

KASSUBA, INC., is announcing their purchase and plans for future operation of the three apartment groups, have disclosed that they will continue these services for the residents, and will continue efforts to make the apartments among the most attractive in the Chicago area.

Among the apartments still available in the overall complex, there are several choices of room arrangement in both one- and two-bedroom units. Model apartments are located at 8884 Steven Dr., just north of Golf Rd. (Rt. 58) about a quarter-mile west of Milwaukee Ave., in Des Plaines.

The models are open for public inspection daily, 10 a.m. till 6 p.m.

Do The Unexpected

Why be conventional in the kitchen?

Of all rooms in the house, it's the place where you, the housewife, are the queen — unless your husband fancies himself as a chef.

So if you don't like the white traditional look of your cabinets and closets, color them to suit your own idea of decor that will add life to the decor. If the task of painting repels you, try using any appropriate scheme of finish available in the Con-Tac paper line, which includes wood-grain designs as well as color patterns.

Or do the unexpected, by introducing wire-back or rattan furniture into the area. Odd-shaped glass vials, decanters, or bottles also can be put to unusual appearance on your shelves in place of the standard containers for herbs, spices, and other seasoning ingredients.

Explore the possibilities of lantern or chandelier effects in your lighting fixtures.

Or to add an old-fashioned look to the walls, mount an intriguing recipe from yesteryear on a wood plaque or jute wall hanging near the "recipe corner" where you file your current ideas on feeding your family.

Be yourself, and your kitchen will reflect your personality pleasantly.

STRUCTURAL DECORATION

Modern design often uses the lines and textures of structural elements of a building to make interior as well as exterior decoration. Concrete beams and columns are left exposed. Bricks are not covered. Quarry tile on interior floors and exterior walls complements structural features. The result is unity of design inside and out.

PETERS AND EVANS, REALTORS, 101 North Arlington Heights Rd., formerly Peters & Co., have just celebrated their first year in business. The partners of Peters and Evans are proud to announce that they have had an exceptionally good year in the sale of homes and acreage. This, they feel, is due to the fine sales staff which now totals 14. The company now has two separate divisions, one specializing in the sale of homes, the other in the sale of acreage and investment property.

A Carefree, Enjoyable Time

If you are newlywed furnishing your first home or apartment, you may not realize it but the chances are that you want something different from the furniture in your parents' home.

The new bride is most frequently the one who determines what styles of furniture go into the new home. Before she herself becomes a mother, she usually seeks to break with the past and unconsciously looks for something better than or at least different from what she suddenly becomes an exciting adventure. She is on her own and is quite apt to go all out in her search for new and modern ideas.

THE UNUSUAL AND UNIQUE items that surround the newly married couple will express their personality almost as much as the everyday clothing they select.

After baby arrives on the scene, other considerations enter into the calculations: easy-to-clean and easy-to-replace furniture gets the emphasis. Such factors as whether the items are inexpensive, do not show stain, are durable, — these become suddenly more important.

But the first round of furniture-buying is often a carefree and enjoyable time, with every "his and her" selection a frolic to be treasured.

JOHN M. CHRISTENSEN

Anthony Andros, sales manager for Bolger Realtors, announced a total of 142 homes sold during their first year, in cooperation with M.A.P. Multiple Listing Service.

Andros attributed this accomplishment to an intensive training program that each salesman employed by the firm must complete.

John M. Christensen participated in the sale of 44 homes totaling over $1,000,000 in his first year as a real estate salesman.

Christensen lives in Elk Grove Village with his wife Audrey and 3 children.

ZONING

Your Realtor has the necessary information concerning local zoning regulations.

What is "zoning"?

Zoning is the process of dividing cities into districts or zones. This is done on the basis of how the land is used. The city may decide, within reasonable limits, what types of buildings can be constructed. It may also specify what the property can be used for.

Zoning seeks to promote the health, safety, and welfare of the citizens. Districts are usually zoned as residential, commercial, or industrial. Single residences can be built in almost any area.

Commercial uses may appear in industrial areas. However, they usually cannot be introduced in a residential zone. There are occasional exceptions to zoning regulations. These are called "variance permits."

Zoning has a stabilizing influence on real estate values. For more specific zoning information, contact your Realtor.

The final 1967 sales figures are in and they show that again in 1967 as in the previous 3 years, the Robert L. Nelson, Realtors, sold all other Realtors in home sales, including homes in 1967, in cooperation with M.A.P. Multiple Listing Service. Nelson, Realtors sold 627 homes in 1967, in cooperation with M.A.P. Multiple Listing Service, a new record for the Nelson Organization.

Village to Buy Center Site

By Charles Houdon

A downtown block with some of Arlington Heights' oldest landmarks probably will be bought by the village trustees Monday night to provide space for the future cultural center and a new public parking lot.

The congregation of the Arlington Heights Evangelical Free Church, Dunton and St. James, yesterday notified the village it is ready to sell its one-acre-block property, including the Sun residence and a parsonage, for $200,000. The church building is owned by the church for the purchase of the almost 3-acre lot.

Hanson said the cultural center probably would be devoted to theater and musical performances, and other phases of the fine arts. Woods said he expected the trustees to approve the agreement under which the village would give the Evangelical church $100,000 in down payment and the rest when full possession of the property within two years.

The property is immediately south of the new public library and one block north of the new Historical Society Museum.

The Evangelical church will build its own facility on a 4-acre lot at Belmont and Douglas, across from the church.

power to raise money without referendum for construction of public buildings. A public referendum, though, would be needed to establish such a commission. The parking lot portion of the property can be financed through motor fuel tax funds. A law passed by the Illinois General Assembly last year allows the use of motor fuel tax funds for acquisition of off-street parking.

Dashed line indicates block Arlington Heights probably will buy for the site of a proposed cultural center and parking lot.

Residents Protest Planned Paving of Clarendon Rd.

BY TED LACEY

Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) meeting. The project, combining of grading, paving, curbing, the four-block stretch along Clarendon between Ridge and Highland and the east half of Edge between Dunton and Thomas, was "initiated as a follow-up to other improvements we have been making in the Northwest Highlands area," according to BOLI president Sam Ruder.

The trustees, urged by local residents who wanted the street paved, voted to accept the BOLI recommendation.

Much of the work already has been done, financed by the village and by private contractors. Residents pay money for repairs in escrow, thus avoiding the six per cent interest rate and 10 annual installment payments when a special assessment must be made.

The private contractor, the largest in the state of Illinois, according to board member Russell H. Colvin.

The 15 to 20 residents who attended the public hearing protested, that they already have been assessed too much, and that the value of Clarendon does not warrant another assessment.

Car Crash Kills Lester Traub, 40

Lester Traub, 40, of Rollins Meadows, was killed yesterday afternoon near Jenoville. When his car drove over an embankment on Interstate 90 and crashed onto Highway M below the overpass. Jenoville Deputy Police said the car apparently was approaching the overpass when it left the highway near the Highway M interchange. The car bounced off the road and fell to the highway below and hit an embankment.

His parents, Charles and Edith Traub of Dallas, Tex., and two sisters, Mrs. Gladys Prochaska of Dallas and Mrs. Margaret Fleish of Fresno, Calif.

Eighteen teenagers were arrested last night by Arlington Heights Police and charged with possession of alcoholic beverages after police treated a beer party at the home of one of the youths.

The teens, 17 of them residents of Arlington Heights and one a resident of Rolling Meadows, all were charged with possession of alcoholic beverages.

They ARE free on $25 bond and were released to the custody of their parents. It took nine police vehicles to transport the group to the Arlington Heights Police station and four detectives and several members of the department on duty were involved in processing the arrest records.

The parents of the teens were notified. Most parents came to the station to post bond. Sgt. George Ebbelard talked to the parents in a group and explained the circumstances of the arrest.

Juveniles arrested included six 16-year old girls, two 16-year old boys and four 17-year old boys.

Meters Suffer from Indigestion

BY MAXINE TYMKA

Problem parking meters. That's what's bothering the downtown Arlington Heights shopper who can't get a coin into the meter that reads "expired."

That's what's bothering members of the Arlington Heights Police Department who have to keep a tab on the meters and a tab on the tickets they write.

That's what's bothering Stewart Grant, Arlington Heights finance director who has to convert foreign coins into dollars, and scratch pay money, slag, and soft drink can rings from the village budget.

COMPLAINTS from Day readers prompted a spot check of meters on Campbell St. this week. It was impossible to find one that isn't working every two meters checked. The coin slot of each meter was jammed with a penny. The meters registered "expired."

The reporter didn't have to go as far as Campbell to discover a meter that didn't register. Two parking meters in front of The Day office at 217 S. Arlington Heights Rd. are jammed with pennies.

Li Jack Aldrich of the Arlington Heights Police Department, said he is aware of the situation and asked the cooperation of the public in reporting the faulty meters.

THE POLICE department employs one man to repair meters. "It is a full time job and keeps him busy all day," said Aldrich.

"When a resident reports to us that a meter isn't functioning properly, we fix it. The officer on the street checks the meters and if they find one that isn't working they try to fix it. If it is too complicated to be repaired by a simple adjustment, they report it and we see that the main repair is. But it is impossible for officers to make personal inspections of all the meters to know each day."

"IF PEOPLE come to the police station with a parking ticket they say they shouldn't have received it, I'll be glad to listen to them. I have been getting about 15 to 20 complaints each week," he said.

"We could care less how many parking tickets an officer writes. We are not interested in the parking tickets, we are interested in the money."

Final Joyce Of The Day

HOWARD WAGNER
Joyce of the Day

Arlington Heights Joyce was win at their observation of National Joyce Week Saturday. During the week, four women members of the local Chapter have been introduced to the community through The Day.

Today, a new member of the organization is spotlighted. Howard Wagner, 35, of 315 N. Sales, joined the Joyce club last November. Wagner is a marketing adviser for Shell Oil Co., married, and an active photographer. He has several of the Joyce pictures seen in this column. He is a member of the Joyce publicity public relations committee, and is working toward the Spoke Award for Best-year man.

"The parking meter requires 'expired' but even the best of us can't seem to get the jammed penny inserted into the meter."

Stewart Grant, finance director of the village of Arlington Heights, has a mighty collection of "junk" money deposited in parking meters.

money to make all these payments. I've got three kids and if one of them gets sick, I wouldn't have the money to put him in the hospital," Burke said.

COLVIN SAID: "I'm waiting wouldn't really help either, because of the escalating cost of building materials and construction labor."

Another Northwest Heights spokesman, Lou Boken, 138 N. Channing, commented BOKI for spending so much time on the problem in the past, and for coming to the city for assistance. "I think that the board of trustees should spend the same percentage of their time on a matter like this as they do on apartment buildings," he said. "They should stop laughing and start thinking. The fact that this has landed the loss indicates the liability of the board of trustees to come to a decision."

RUSH RYAN, 1100 N. Channing, said: "The trustees' desire to improve Channing, 'We don't want it, we can't afford it, and that should be your BOKI's answer to the board of trustees.'"

Colvin replied, "If you can convince the board of trustees that the special assessment should be dropped, then we would be happy to make that our recommendation."

TO HELP the residents gather evidence to use in changing the trustees' opinion, BOKI asked for preparation of a preliminary schedule of payment distribution to show how each of the residents involved would be assessed, should the project be approved.

The schedule will be made by Bob Bishop, who has acted as this special commissioner in the past, and submitted at the continuation of the hearing at 8:30 p.m. on March 26.

present church in 1860, added to it in 1870 and completed it with a new sanctuary about 60 years later.

IN 1953 the building was taken over by the Evangelical Free Church which later bought the Best residence.

The house was built in 1897 by Dr. John E. Best, one of the early physicians here at that time.

The church building initially housed the First Methodist Church. An old-fashioned religious revival in Elk Grove and Whiting in 1838 sent here a small Methodist congregation which built the church two years later, according to Mrs. Daisy Daniels, curate of the Arlington Heights Historical Society Museum.

FOR TWO YEARS the methodists worshipped in a little more at S. Dunton, owned by W. C. Wing.

Dr. Oregon said his congregation now is booming so large for the facilities.

There are two Sunday morning services, he said. The church has 320 members and about 275 attend the Sunday School.

The new Evangelical sanctuary is expected to hold about 600 persons and the educational facilities, Sunday Schools and mid-week clubs, about 900.

people are getting upset because they are getting picked. I'm willing to listen to reason. But the residents can help us to keep up with this thing by reporting an incident of a meter that is not functioning properly, but not to us, and just pay the fine," he said.

He said the 12-hour parking lots are checked each day and often the police discover a meter that does not register the full time. He said the police mark the car and if the meter "ticks," the car is not ticked if the meter is known to be defective.

HE SAID the parking meters were installed in 1953 and 1954 at the request of the merchants who wanted to make parking spaces available for the shops, people, and cars to use.

"Until that time we posted signs and marked the time of the day," Aldrich said.

"A big problem is the replacement of a meter. If a valid meter is meter to read 11 or 12 in change, he destroys a $50 piece of equipment. The ring-top from came and the other things people put into the meter can really hang up a mechanism, and it takes time to fix it," he said.

ALDRICH OFFERED this "helpful hint" for the hurried housewife.

"There is a window on the curb side of the mechanism that registers the coin. If the window registers a red mark it is not functioning properly. The officer checks the meter for the red mark. If a car is parked by a meter that does not function, a ticket will not be issued," he said.

ALDRICH said if the officer is able to clear the meter he will run it to the maximum time.

"If the same car is parked there after the meter has been repaired and the time limit has run out, a ticket will be issued," Aldrich said.

THE OTHER SIDE of the parking meter coin was demonstrated by Stewart Grant, finance director.

Grant has a collection of the meter has been deposited in the meters. He said he started to collect it when he was hired by the village in 1954.

Most of the "junk" are the metal rings from soft drink cans. He also has a collection of children's play money, tags, and cardboard coins.

He has a smaller collection of foreign coins which have been converted to U.S. currency.

Dialogue

It happens to all of us, but the typographical goof-up in this column Wednesday must have been more confusing than usual for the reader. We may have to give ourselves the Dialogue Observation Award if it happens again.

If it does happen again, however, where the column starts in the middle, goes to the end, then the beginning and ends in the middle, we will give an award to the first reader who calls to tell us about it. That reader will receive the original manuscript, undersigned by THE George Hamilton (the writer, not the actor).

For those who were confused, here's Wednesday's Dialogue as it was supposed to be:

"Yes, you heard me right. I did mention something a few weeks ago about having volunteered for submarine duty while in the Navy."

"Well, you didn't mention the submarine you were on, so I thought maybe you'd like to tell us something about it. What it was like, whether you saw any action or, you know, like that."

"Now you know I was never one for telling about myself. I usually ask the questions and write about what other people have to say."

"That's all right. Break your rule for once and tell us that you did, for a change."

"Okay. In that case, I'll have to admit, I was a very special specialist. I operated the Navy's first one-man submarine."

"I thought there were a few developments."

"No, it's just that they were kept secret."

"Well, did they have any designation or official name, or was it just 'one-man sub'?"

"I wasn't 'Navy back' then. It was a few years ago or so. Anyway, the submarine did have a name. It was called the USS Strang."

"I never heard of it before."

"Of course not. I said it was a secret. You see, the Navy wanted to have a submarine that could go into the shallow water, into harbors, far upstream in enemy territory and even into creeks and ponds in an attempt to destroy the enemy's supply at its source."

"So the U.S. Coast Guard of New York, N.Y., was given the contract to build this strange class of submarine. They built the first one, which I had the honor, as I said, of operating and testing."

"The U.S. Coast Guard built that name is familiar."

"Yes, it just may be one of the advertising people there came up with the brilliant slogan regarding the submarine's capabilities: 'If It's Up the Creek, It's A.C.G.'"

"So what happened? Did you and the USS Strang ever get into action?"

"Well, yes, in a way, but it wasn't too impressive. You see, intelligence sources informed the Navy that it would be too dangerous to send the tiny submarine into Japanese territory."

"They felt that if the enemy captured just one drimble class submarine, they would copy it, mass-produce them and sell them all over the world."

"So they test the USS Strang to a large battery, and it operated it until they could train a drimble for the job. Every day I would drive to the bottom of the giant beer vat and signal with some light the brewmaster whether the beer at the bottom was as good as the beer at the top."

"That's where the number (53.3.2) came from."

"The brewery was making 3.2 beer for the armed forces."

Story Hour

By Catherine O'Donnell

Gert Broom had Day by Day that the likes this column better when it contains a number of small items instead of one or two long articles. So for Gert and the others who have said as much here's the Friday afternoon story hour.

Victor (Franklin) Crane Daugherty is recovering from a minor operation at Northwestern Community Hospital. He may possibly be home by the time the paper is printed.

One of his friends came home the other day and asked his mother if she'd drive him to the hospital to see Gert. "Oh," said the mother, "he's in the hospital? How long has he been there?"

"Three hours," came the answer. Mike Korte, Jim Donnell and Jim Chappel would have the night day and found him sleeping. They left a note saying, "Sorry you were out when we were in."

Chappel is a senior who is called the choir director for the freshman because he is allowed to walk right up to the school song. "That's why we love you," he said, "to get well cards are in order. Gert's address is 121 N. DuPont."

GOT WIFE
Birth Hansen of the Bank at Arlington Heights returned to work after a week of debate with a weak back muscle. It was nice to see him doing his job.

COLLEGE HOME COMING
The stories of college kids returning home for the holidays called mid-term continue to reach the desk. The latest concerns a family who were surprised to see their son who had driven home from his school in his cherished Fiat.

The Fiat is the pride and joy of adults and kids alike. The student drove to the airport on one of these intermediate last service deals that seem a part of highest education.

The father of the household retired for the night after putting his transonic speed car in the garage for the night.

At 12:30 a.m. the call came: The Fiat refused to budge. The father called and told the Pop to do his drive to O'Hare. The Fiat was still in the car with a chain and tow it home. It was quite a sight for the night eyes who were still up at two in the morning.

ANOTHER TIME, ANOTHER PLACE
In yesterday's Day, Maxine Tyme wrote a story about the birth of a baby in a gasoline station. The two policemen who answered that call were Ron Scheibel and Michael Scherbel. The incident ended with happy, triumphant smiles.

It brought to mind another item from an almost forgotten column. The two policemen were called for an immediate impending birth.

The father is the for the first time wanted frantic. He could not get his car started. Neither of the policemen had had any such experience before. They ran into the home and found the expectant mother in bed and her husband sitting in a chair in the living room reading a book.

The law officers were properly and promptly dignified. They carefully suggested that he put the book down and go to their aid. He waved them aside and never took his eyes from the book.

Finally, an extra loud shout from one of the policemen elicited from him the nervous (extra loud) that he was finishing the last chapter of a book on practical care. The title of the last chapter was "What to Do If The Doctor Comes."

The baby was born and the mother and child and the story should end here. The new father stayed home for a moment to thing and told his wife he would see her later.

Almost two hours later the hospital called. "It's for you, John," said one of his neighbors who had come to help. "You said the mother from the hospital, so the new father, have become father."

Your wife just had a baby. "I know," he answered, "she said it at as much as two hours ago." "Oh yes," the new father said, "the new father had another baby here."

The father called and told the Pop to do his drive to O'Hare. The Fiat was still in the car with a chain and tow it

A Moral Problem

The Rev. Herman C. Dill has been pastor of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church, Prospect Heights, since May, 1960. Prior to coming to Our Redeemer, he was pastor at Ronald Lake, Ill., and on the Isle of Pines, Cuba, where he began his ministerial ministry.

He graduated from Concordia College, Milwaukee, Wis., and from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. He and his wife, Marie, have three children: Ronald, 23; Thomas, 22; and Richard, 16, and Robert, 6.

Today we have much about the possibility of peace abroad and at home, and about remedies urged for the solution of the world's and our country's ills. But whether there be room for optimism or pessimism, the important thing is that mankind is conscious of its responsibility to the future.

Today, and in the future, there will be no fundamental problems. Whatever the special problems will be, and there will be many, the fundamental problem will be a moral one. It will be the old problem of evil, in a new guise at times, but still the same old problem which has always been mankind's.

SO FIRST, let us take a look at ourselves in the light of personal experience. An outstanding fact about every man, woman, and child is that he or she considers himself or herself the center of the universe. At the same time, he or she is a member of the little world around our own little ego.

This self-consciousness is what the Bible calls sin. It is essentially the attitude of the creature about itself. It is a sin against God, a sin against oneself, and a sin against one's neighbor.

Secondly, let us take a look at ourselves in the light of history. Despite all that can be said about human progress, the history of civilization is a sorry record, certainly in view of the possibilities with which mankind started out on its earthly career.

INDEED, SUCH PROGRESS AS has been made is manifestly more eloquently the evidence of evil than of good. And it is not amazing that the last two centuries, in which mankind was most certain about its progress, have witnessed some of the most degrading spectacles of all time.

But there is a remedy, as new as it is old and as true as it is tried. This remedy is not to be found in political formulas. It is not the product of economic or sociological thought. It goes deeper. It cuts to the quick and deals with the source of evil. And what is this wonderful remedy? It is the simple declaration of Jesus: "except you repent, you shall all likewise perish."

TO MANY, NO DOUBT, these words sound a little old-fashioned. And we do not like to be thought of as old-fashioned. Yet, the old-fashioned, as old-fashioned as the morning's sunrise and just as necessary for life and health. These words of Jesus are the only words that have ever made a difference in the lives of men.

The word "repent" is a word Jesus means to experience a change of heart and mind. It means that we confess our sins, trust in the mercy and grace of God, in Jesus our Savior, and endeavor to live in accord with His will.

IT MEANS THAT WE BUILD OUR lives around something outside ourselves and greater than ourselves, around God, who is the center of mankind and history. It means that we find ourselves by losing ourselves in the service of God and our fellow men.

So, if we would diminish strife, crime, vice, violence, we need something positive, something to change men's minds and hearts, something to give them motivation necessary for genuine progress and peace.

We need to rediscover ourselves constantly in the light of the Word of God and to educate ourselves more and more in the spirit of Jesus Christ. We need more desperately than ever before, then, someone educated to understand that righteousness creates a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."
